

LIBRARY NEWS

October 2021

Welcome to the tenth edition of Shelf Talk for 2021! The library staff are so pleased our community have regularly grabbed a copy and shown their support of this initiative to help you stay better informed and connected since Covid has changed the way we interact. If this is the first time you've read Shelf Talk, you can still read previous copies by going to our website and downloading them as PDF copies, or ask a staff member to show you where our library copies of previous editions are kept.

Last month we introduced you to the brand new cafe in the Gawler Civic Centre, Metro Cafe. For this issue, you will be introduced to two of the team members that look after the Gawler Civic Centre: Sam Irrgang, with help from Sara Preece.

Meet Sam...

Sam has been working for Town of Gawler for 3.5 years, since January 2018. His role is the Civic Centre Operations Coordinator, primarily working to coordinate meeting room and event space hirers and user groups, and to coordinate shows, events and exhibitions in these spaces. He also helps to coordinate some of the daily operations of the centre (marketing, maintenance and WHS etc.). Sam enjoys working in the background to pull together successful shows, events and exhibitions that bring a smile and entertainment to those attending.

In his spare time he likes spending time with his wife and 3 boys (9yrs, 7yrs & 11 months!), going to the gym, supporting his favourite sporting teams (Crows, Adelaide United & Manchester United) and listening to music.

This month (October) is Sara's four year work anniversary at the Town of Gawler. Her role is Personal Assistant to the Manager, Business Enterprises & Communications, and she is based at the Gawler Civic Centre. Sara's favourite part of her job is the variety – she loves keeping her manager organised as well as helping out others in her team with adhoc duties too, so Sara can often be seen at other council sites. She is a resident of the Town of Gawler and feels that it's a real privilege to work where she is also a community member. When she is not at work, you can usually find her outdoors with her family enjoying the bike paths, the parks or the pool. Sara is also a big 'foodie', and plays the piano.

PROTECT YOURSELF FROM SCAMS!

A scam is a term used to describe any fraudulent business or scheme that takes personal information, money or other goods from an unsuspecting person. With the world becoming more connected through the internet, online scams have increased, it therefore pays to be cautious and follow a few simple steps.

OFF THE SHELF

Off the Shelf!

What will you learn today?

As you get older, your health concerns may change, which can in turn raise questions about ageing and what that means for you. We have many titles in the library collection that may assist you in answering those questions or just giving you a giggle about the whole process. Whether you're wanting to know more about physical activity, exercising, mental health or maybe you've got questions about menopause and your physical health, we can help you find the books from either of the Gawler Library locations or throughout the One Card Network. If you find you are needing further support at home, the Gawler Home Assist Program may be able to help you. Please see below for information on this important program.

Home Assist Program

The Gawler Home Assist Program is a Council service that aims to keep people living independently in their own home for longer. This is achieved through the provision of subsidised services that aim to help with tasks that people are no longer able to do on their own. This may include assistance with cleaning, gardening, home maintenance tasks, the installation of minor home modifications (such as rails and ramps), assistance to get out and about in the community or friendly in-home visiting. Home Assist services are available to Council residents aged 65 years or older with an appropriate My Aged Care referral. For more information on the Home Assist Program or My Aged Care, please phone 8522 1177.

A tragic accident leaves the tight-knit book club in the small seaside town of Fairweather reeling. Then, stranger Tom McLysaght arrives in the community, and the members of the club find their lives changing in ways they never could have imagined. None of them realise that Tom is hiding a secret. On the surface, his move to Fairweather was to escape his highflying life in London and to put some much-needed distance between him and his ex-fiancee - but deep down Tom knows that there are some things he cannot run from.

MAGAZINE HIGHLIGHT

written by Angie

Wellbeing Magazine

Fancy reading something that makes you feel relaxed, rejuvenated, and ready to make better choices? Pick up a copy of Wellbeing magazine, sit down for a couple of hours and read! You will discover a whole new world of health and wellbeing tips, information, and education. The current issue of Wellbeing is a special 'Nurture' issue and features articles about accepting your shadow self, intermittent fasting, looking at a future world without gas resources, and reclaiming your worth. Wellbeing has been published for more than 30 years and every issue includes information about ethical living, wholefood cooking, environmental affairs, alternative therapies, natural health, and yoga.

Researched and written by industry professionals, the magazine aims to allow readers to achieve balance in their work, family, and community lifestyle. If you are new to the whole 'self-care' movement, reading this magazine is an enjoyable way to begin your journey to a simpler, more natural, and healthier lifestyle.

EVENING READS

Science Fiction and FANTASY

Are you keen to escape reality in a big way? Reading fiction books has always been an escape, but sometimes you need to read something that is a complete departure from all that is recognisable. Have you ever read any fantasy or science fiction before? The Gawler Libraries collection is full of fantastic and thought-provoking science fiction and fantasy titles for all audiences and age ranges. Are you a Trekkie? Or maybe you love the Game of Thrones series by George R. R. Martin? We have titles from many celebrated authors in these genres like Ray Bradbury, Isaac Asimov, Terry Brooks, Trudi Canavan and many new authors too. We've got short stories, series, graphic novels, picture books, DVDs, and audiobooks, and non-fiction titles which discuss physics. However you prefer to digest your love of science fiction or fantasy, we've got plenty to choose from. There are also many titles written as additions to your favourite TV shows. Check out the link below, or ask a staff member next time you're in the library.

Bird Count

Have you ever wondered about the local birdlife that visits your place? Do you have regular visitors that you've come to recognise? Have you created a garden that is welcoming to birds? Why not give the Great Aussie Backyard Bird Count a hand this year and take part during 18–24 October and spend some time relaxing in your garden enjoying the birds?

Taking part in the Aussie Backyard Bird Count is easy! Just spend 20 minutes in your favourite outdoor space and then let them know about the birds you see during that time. Submissions of your results can be made using the app or the web form. You can find more information on this initiative through this web address:

www.aussiebirdcount.org.au

If you are keen on creating a bird haven in your backyard or getting a better understanding of what bird types you're seeing around your area, then check out this link

www.onecard.network/gawler to our online catalogue where you'll find items to help you.

The QR code to the right will take you directly to the official website for the Aussie Backyard Bird Count.

AUTHOR HIGHLIGHT

Fleur McDonald

After growing up in the South Australian farming region of Orroroo, fiction writer Fleur McDonald now lives in Esperance, on the far south coast of Western Australia with her energetic Kelpie, Jack. A busy person, Fleur has written 20 novels since her debut novel, Red Dust and she still owns a farm, working the land - all 8,000 acres of it! Red Dust made her the highest selling debut author of 2009. Since then, she's gone on to write 16 novels including her well known Detective Burrows series of books and two children's books. She writes about what she knows, stories set in regional areas around Australia with salt-of-the-earth characters. You can find many of her titles in the Gawler Libraries and across the One Card Network. Just browse our online catalogue, or ask one of the fantastic library staff next time you're in one of our locations. We're here to help you find your next great read!

"Emma is recently divorced, working the land at Deception Creek, the farm that three generations of her family have owned before her. Haunted by her distant past and more recent nightmares, Emma works hard to move on. With criminal Joel Hammond being released from jail and heading home to Barker, Detective Dave Burrows and his officer Senior Sergeant Jack Higgins are on high alert. When secrets from the past threaten, loyalties will be questioned."

USING THE LIBRARY...

Using our self-loan station

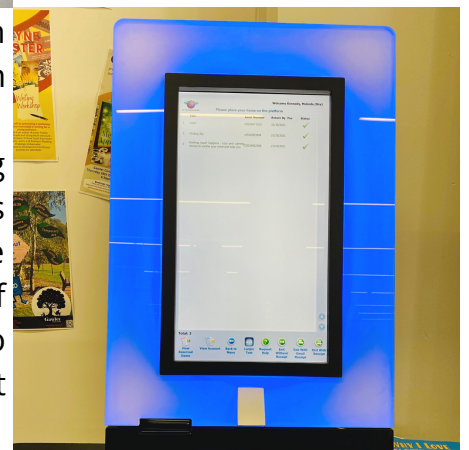

Have you tried using our self-loan stations to borrow library items? We installed our first self-loan station at the old Gawler Library over a decade ago, and this was moved to the Evanston Gardens Library when the Gawler Library closed in 2017 for extensive building works. When it reopened in 2019 as part of the new Gawler Civic Centre, the Library had two brand-new self-loan stations that you can see when you visit us today. Our lovely old self-loan station at Evanston Gardens Library has finally seen its last day, and you will now find a new one over there, identical to the two at the Civic Centre Library. They are there to assist our customers to 'grab & go' with their reservations, to borrow items quickly and conveniently, to access their holds list, or to view their account. When customers choose this method it gives our library staff the opportunity to assist other customers who have more detailed queries. If you'd like to learn how to use the self-loan station, please ask one of our staff the next time you're in the library. We are always happy to show you more about how to get the most out of your library service. There are three ways to access the self-loan stations. You can scan your library card; manually type in your library card number; or scan the digital copy of your barcode if you have it stored in the Libraries SA app. This will bring up a screen where you can choose your next step.

There are three options. If you are borrowing, touch the green 'Borrow Items' icon and stack your items on the pad in front of the screen. The RFID (Radio Frequency Identification) tags in all library items will be read by the self-loan station, and the titles should appear on the screen in a list with green ticks to show it has all been borrowed correctly. Once you're done borrowing there are multiple options for your receipt at the bottom right-hand side of the screen. There are also options for different languages, including PIRATE!

So the next time you're in the library, why not have a go?

TECH TIPS

Get Online Week is a yearly campaign from the Good Things Foundation to help promote safe and confident use of the internet and technology for everyone. Get Online Week for this year is 18-24 October 2021. The library will hold three workshops on October 20th at the Gawler Civic Centre Library, beginning at 10am. If you'd like more details or to book your spot, please ask the library staff next time you're visiting either of our locations.

Do you ever hear digital terminology that has you completely confused? We're going to help clear up some of these technological terms. Check out a few words we've explained for you below...

- The Cloud - The cloud is an online storage space. Access to cloud services is via a web browser like Chrome or Edge or by using a dedicated app on your device.
- Podcast - a recording of an audio program. Like listening to a live radio program, but with pause, replay and fast forward.
- WiFi - Wi-Fi connects your device to the internet without the need for cables, as long as your device remains in range.
- App - Short for application, these are the programs you find on computers. App is just another name for a computer program. Smartphones & tablets are types of computers, so everything they do needs a program or app. These are represented on your device by small images called icons.

WHAT'S IN A WORD?

The word 'boohai' has recently been added to the Oxford English Dictionary and got us to thinking about words about places. It sees colloquial use in New Zealand and occasionally in Australia.

Boohai: A remote rural place or district; 'the sticks'. Frequently in "up the boohai": in a very remote or out of the way place; (figurative) completely astray, altogether wrong; in a hopeless condition.

Perhaps it's a bit like

Woop Woop: a remote locations, middle of nowhere, or 'beyond the black stump'.

A very old word, and no longer in use, is a place you don't want to go

Wastingstead: A devastated place

While a very different sort of place is a

Halfpace: A landing in a stair which separates two flights of stairs.

Emu Bottom: painful stiffness of the glutes commonly experienced after the first lawn mowing of spring.

Following negotiations with the Kurna Warra Pintyandi (Kurna Language Group), the name Tapa Pariara has been agreed as a joint name for the river path. Tapa is a Kurna word for path or track, pari is Kurna for river and pariara is Kurna for along the river, so

Tapa Pariara: path along the river

And these last words are all actual place names in Australia. The definitions however have been "inspired by the lyricism, humour and sheer idiocy bursting out" [of them]. They can be found in Dicky Beach and Alice Springs' book Skewiff: the meaning of Australia.

Goombungee: the psycho dance of someone who has just walked into a spider's web.

Nuriootpa: the feeling of loss and disappointment when you come to the end of a good book and there's no sequel.

LIBRARY SERVICES

Additional Justice of the Peace services

We have great news! The JP Service has recently added an extra day to their availability at the Gawler Civic Centre Library. You can now find a Justice of the Peace on Tuesdays as well as Thursdays and Saturdays, from 10:30am until 12:30pm. Thank you to the Barossa & Districts Justices Group for providing this valuable service to our community.

Seed Library - Spring Collection has arrived!

Spring has sprung! Well it did, and then it didn't, and now I'm patiently waiting for the sunshine-y days and cool nights to come back and stay! But my veggie patch and garden seem to be doing well, and it is nice not having to water every day! It must be time to plant some seeds and let the season begin. We have our Spring seed collection available in the libraries and we have an abundance of seeds for you to add to your patch. Currently, we have the following seeds available; hollyhock, lamb's ear and four o'clock plant, freesia and swan plant, carrot, lettuce and rockmelon, cat grass, basil, parsley, and thyme. Come to the library and collect some seeds, a limit of 3 packs per person applies, and we ask that you donate some seed back to the library after harvest, to ensure we can keep the seed library running in the future.

RECOVERING THE PAST

Photography Art Exhibition

EXHIBITION: Friday 3 September – Saturday 30th October

9.00am-5.00pm Mondays-Fridays and 9.00am-1.00pm Saturdays

OPENING: Friday 3rd September

This September and October in the Gawler Institute Hall you will be able to experience Recovering the Past. This exhibition is an innovative photographic project of 25 striking and thought provoking images; not a project of war itself, but a philosophical exploration of consequences of human conflict, of legacies that persist long after the guns fall silent. The exhibition brings together two separate groups of men with origins a century apart but who are united through a tragic conflict. One being the famed 'Diggers' of the Australian Imperial Force (AIF) who fought in Flanders in some of the worst battles of the Great War; the other, the personnel of the ongoing bomb disposal efforts on the same former battlefields today.

Chocolate witchy apples

You won't want to give these away to the trick or treaters! Better than toffee apples, you could get all your friends at the party to decorate their own.

makes 6

ingredients

- oil or butter, for greasing
- small apples, 6
- milk chocolate, 250g/8oz
- round sweets (candies), 12
- liquorice bootlaces
- ice cream cones, 6
- jewel-coloured sweets (optional)

apples

tools

- * Baking sheet
- * Baking parchment
- * Vegetable peeler
- * 6 wooden skewers or lolly (popsicle) sticks
- * Heatproof bowl
- * Medium pan
- * Wooden spoon

1 Lightly grease a baking sheet with oil or butter and line with a piece of baking parchment.

3 Put the chocolate in a heatproof bowl set over a pan of barely simmering water (take care not to let the water touch the base of the bowl). Leave to melt for about 5 minutes. Remove the bowl from the pan and stir the chocolate gently with a wooden spoon. Adult supervision is required.

4 Tilt the bowl to collect a deep pool of chocolate on one side of the bowl. Dip each apple in the chocolate, coating the outside completely (reserve any leftover chocolate in the bowl). Place each apple on the lined baking sheet. Leave for about 30 minutes, until the chocolate is almost set.

5 One at a time, hold the apples by the sticks. Press two round sweets into the chocolate on each apple to make the witch's eyes. Use a small piece of a liquorice bootlace to make a smile, and attach longer pieces to the top of the apple to make hair. Repeat with the other apples.

6 Use a little of the remaining melted chocolate to attach the cone to the top of the apple, for a hat. If you like, use a little more melted chocolate to attach jewel-coloured sweets to the cone, for decoration.

And then have a giggle kitchen

2 Peel the apples with a vegetable peeler and thoroughly dry them on kitchen paper. Press a wooden skewer or lolly stick into the core of each one. Adult supervision is required.

The Golden Tower by Belinda Murrell.

Sophie feels like nothing is going right in her life. But when she's transported to Tuscia, accidentally saves the daughter of a wealthy family and is swept along with them on their journey to the Golden Tower, her life becomes very interesting indeed.

Enter the jungle by Anh Do

Ethan was a normal teenager, until a freak lightning strike gave him the power to control any electronic device within range. Now he's on the run... and he'll need all his wits to survive. This has villains, androids, psychic abilities and more.

Train party by Karen Blair

All aboard the train party! This delightful rhyming picture book captures all the fun of a preschooler's train-themed birthday party at a miniature railway park. Clickety-clack! All aboard the train party!

CLEVER KIDS

Test your eyesight with these picture puzzles

LINE UP THE LINES

Are the lines between the squares straight or bendy? Your ruler may disagree with your eyes!

33

WINK AT ME

If you look at this illusion with one eye instead of both, it may move less or not at all. This is because with only one eye in play your brain is receiving less contradictory information.

53

CONVEX OR CONCAVE?!

Are you looking at the top of a pyramid, or peering down a tunnel?

11

TRY THIS ONE AT HOME!

You don't need to visit the Leaning Tower of Pisa to set up a picture like this - try it with a large tree.

STORYTIME & RHYMES

September saw storytime return to the Gawler Civic Centre with weekly Tiny Tales sessions upstairs in the Hall so that we can meet SA Health requirements and safely distance. We will be continuing these weekly story, fingerplay and rhyme sessions in Term 4 each Tuesday morning at 9.30am.

Hello, hello! Can you clap your hands?
(clap, clap, clap)
Hello, hello! Can you clap your hands?
(clap, clap, clap)

Can you stretch up high?
Can you touch your toes?
Can you turn around?

Hello, hello! Can you stamp your feet?
(stamp, stamp, stamp)
Hello, hello! Can you stamp your feet?
(stamp, stamp, stamp)

Hello, hello! Let's sit back down.
Hello, hello! Let's read a book.

Each Tiny Tales session begins with our action song Hello, Hello and finishes with If You're Happy and You Know It

Some of the themes we will be exploring in Term 4 include:

*If you're wearing blue...
Touch your shoe.
If you're wearing red...
Touch your head.
If you're wearing pink...
Have a think.
If you're wearing brown...
Sit back down.*

*The balls on the field go,
Bounce, bounce, bounce.
Bounce, bounce, bounce.
Bounce, bounce, bounce.
The balls on the field go,
Bounce, bounce, bounce.
Let's play with the balls together.*

*I'm a little turtle, on the sand.
I go slow when on dry land.
When I'm in the ocean,
Watch and see,
I'm so quick you can't catch me.*

KIDS CREATE

Have you ever made salt dough?

Here is the recipe to hours of creative fun.

- 2 glasses of plain flour
- 1 glass of salt
- water

1. Mix the flour and salt in a medium sized bowl and stir.
2. Add water, just a little at a time and stir some more.
3. Add just enough water to make the dough thick but not sticky.
4. Place the dough on a table and knead until it is soft and smooth, with no lumps.
5. If it's sticky, add a bit more flour.
6. If it's crumbly, add a bit more water.
7. Either make your figures on a baking tray or when you are done carefully transfer it to a tray.
8. Figures are baked at 100° Celsius. for 30 minutes for thin objects, and up to 60 minutes for round 3D shapes.
9. Figures should be take off the baking tray and placed carefully on the oven racks about halfway through.
10. After your figure has cooled, you can paint it if you wish.

FAMILY READING

Off the Map by Scott Gardner

Having enjoyed several of Scott Gardner's previous books (Changing Gear, The Way We Roll, White Ute Dreaming), I put his latest teen fiction in my TO BE READ list. It's a collection of short stories all set in the one town. These are people and places familiar to us and as you get to know the characters, you get to know the town and you are eager to meet the next person and hear their story. My favourite was "Thingless", inviting me to "Count the waves and read the stories in the clouds."

I'm sure you will find a favourite in this collection too.

Perfect for a quick break from exam study

How to Betray a Dragon's Hero by Cressida Cowell

Read by Scottish actor, David Tennant, listening to this audio book could be a fun way to spend family time. Described as "fiercely exciting and laugh-aloud funny" by Amanda Craig in The Times, it is another tale in the popular series about a small viking boy who "feels like a very ordinary boy, finding it hard to be a hero."

Growing pains by Alison Alison McLennan & Illustrated by Melissa Johns

This was read recently at one of the library's Tiny Tales storytimes. The illustrations are delightfully textural and invite taking the time to explore and discuss.

Bookworm for Kids described Growing Pains as "a touching story about curiosity, kindness, empathy, care of the environment, and overcoming your fears."

FRIDAY FUNNIES

What do you call a ghost who lives at Glenelg?

A coast ghost.

Why did the food disappear at the Halloween party?
