May
2021

Welcome to the fifth edition of the Gawler Library's Shelf Talk newsletter for 2021! We're so pleased you've grabbed yourself a copy and hope you enjoy all the good stuff we've packed inside for you to read. If this is the first time you've read Shelf Talk, you can still read previous copies by going to our website and downloading them as PDF copies. Last month we introduced you to Melina - a Library Program Officer who works at the Gawler Public Library. For this issue, you will get to know more about one of our Library Casual Officers, Belinda. You may have seen her working at both our locations or presenting during our Tiny Tales sessions.

Meet Belinda...

I have been here at Gawler for almost 2 years, I work in customer service so I am usually assisting customers or doing general work around the library. I love helping people find the book they are looking for, especially the kids. I love spending time with my grandkids, doing family history, and if I get time I LOVE to snuggle in with a good book to read.

Tiny Tales is back for term two!

Get ready for lots of fun with storytime this term. We've got plenty of themes to look forward to. Make sure you mark Tuesday mornings @ 9:30 in your calendar so you don't miss out! We can't wait to see all your happy faces.

EVENING READS

Fantasy Fiction...

"Half-Fae, half-human Bryce Quinlan loves her life. By day, she works for an antiques dealer, selling barely legal magical artifacts, and by night, she parties with her friends, savouring every pleasure Lunathion - otherwise known as Crescent City - has to offer. But it all comes crumbling down when a ruthless murder shakes the very foundations of the city - and Bryce's world. Two years later, her job has become a dead end, and she now seeks only blissful oblivion in the city's most notorious nightclubs. But when the murderer attacks again, Bryce finds herself dragged into the investigation and paired with an infamous Fallen angel whose own brutal past haunts his every step. Hunt Athalar, personal assassin for the Archangels, wants nothing to do with Bryce Quinlan, despite being ordered to protect her. She stands for everything he once rebelled against and seems more interested in partying than solving the murder, no matter how close to home it might hit. But Hunt soon realizes there's far more to Bryce than meets the eye - and that he's going to have to find a way to work with her if they want to solve this case. As Bryce and Hunt race to untangle the mystery, they have no way of knowing the threads they tug ripple through the underbelly of the city, across warring continents, and down to the darkest levels of Hel, where things that have been sleeping for millennia are beginning to stir..."

SAVING SEEDS IS EASY!

Written by Angie

Saving seed refers to the act of harvesting seeds from a crop and saving them, usually with the intention to plant them at a later date. If you cast your mind back to the lockdown days during COVID, you may recall not being able to buy a seedling or even a packet of seeds from the nursery. It seemed as if everyone was planting a vegie patch! Saving seeds from your patch will allow you to save money, have access to seeds when you need them, and continue to enjoy the same varieties of quality produce when you harvest.

There are a few things to consider before you begin. Firstly, only save seeds from plants you know are non-hybrid plants. This ensures the plant will closely resemble the parent plant. Second, never eat the best plants; use these as your seed saving 'heroes'. After collecting the seed, they need to be stored correctly to ensure they will survive, and will shoot when planted. Species have differing collection and storage techniques, which can be learnt by reading a book called 'Back garden seed saving' by Sue Strickland, which is available in our library.

Gawler library are excited to announce that we will soon be launching our very own seed library! We have been collecting donations from the community, and the Gawler Environment Centre has kindly donated their seeds to our library.

Keep your eye out in the library and on social media, to find out when you can come and collect some seeds to get your garden growing. We do ask that you consider saving some seeds from your crop to donate back to the library so we can continue the seed library into the future. If we run out of seeds, we cannot continue!

Happy gardening!

You can find more magazines on our catalogue using this link www.onecard.network/gawler or you can browse the digital magazine collection using the PressReader app.

USING THE LIBRARY...

What is the Dewey Decimal System?..

The Dewey Decimal Classification, created by American librarian Melvil Dewey in 1873, is a tool to organise and classify subjects to arrange items in a library. It was developed to organise all knowledge into ten main classes, each of which is divided into ten divisions, then further again into ten sections per division, which altogether cover the entire world of knowledge. The Dewey Decimal Classification is owned and maintained by the Online Computer Library Center, Inc. (OCLC) which owns all copyright rights in the Dewey Decimal Classification, and licenses the system for a variety of uses throughout the world in as many as 140 countries! To ensure the system can cope with changes in society it is continuously revised to keep pace with knowledge.

To get the specifics of titles published, each three digit number can be given decimal points such as 398.2 which can be broken down by

- 300 Social Sciences
- 390 Customs, Etiquette, Folklore
- 398 Folklore
- 398.2 Folklore Literature... which is where you would find Fairy Tales.

The ten main classes are displayed here with their divisions underneath. To see the breakdown of a similar system, scan the QR code with your smart device to view an interactive website from Library Thing. Just tap each class and division to see how it breaks down into different subjects. This website is not using the actual Dewey Decimal system, however it functions similarly.

STORYTIME & RHYMES

Reading to babies & young children gives them a head-start in life

"The most active period of human brain growth and development is from birth to three years of age. A child's brain is 90% developed by five years of age.

Repeated positive early experiences of language, rhyme and stories strengthen connections in a child's brain. Story sessions provide the perfect opportunities to build the foundation for optimal brain development in the first five years."
